

The 2005 Monument Awards

The Maryland and Virginia building industry associations honor outstanding luxury homes

By Jeff Marcus

In search of the year's best new homes, the 2005 Monument Awards Committee uncovered innovative and creative designs in a wide variety of prices and locations. Though built in different styles and materials, each of the winning homes is distinguished by attention to detail, high-quality construction and free-flowing easy-living floorplans. These are houses anyone would be happy to call home.

Each year the Monument Awards are presented by the Northern Virginia Building Industry Association to honor the best new homes and communities throughout the region. The following pages showcase a sampling of this year's top winners.
