

AIA | DC news

WASHINGTON CHAPTER AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS

MEMBER NEWS

BOWA Builders has just launched a first-of-its-kind green rebate program, called the BOWA Environmental Incentive Program (EIP). This innovative program rewards clients who elect recommended environmental upgrades for their 2009 construction projects by rebating fees on up to $100,000 in related costs. By eliminating some of the costs associated with upgrades that go above and beyond BOWA's already-high building standards, the BOWA EIP encourages clients to achieve their design and construction goals with lower-impact homes.

Doug Horgan, BOWA Vice President and member of DC AIA's Committee on the Environment